

IGA FC KUNOICHI MIE

Previously company-owned and formerly known as Iga UenoKunoichi Soccer Club, the currently named Iga FC Kunoichi Mie celebrated its 45th anniversary this year. Kunoichi means 'femaleninja'. Winning the league's championship twice, as well as the Empress's Cup and National Sports Festival three and four times respectively, it hopes to rise once again as an experienced team. The team maintains close ties to the community by participating in a wide range of events and activities, with the belief that building these connections not only grows its reputation but helps manage and strengthen the team. The club's current goal is to join the Japan Women's Empowerment Professional Football League and become a team that represents female soccer in Japan.
