

IGA FC KUNOICHI MIE

Based in Iga City, Mie Prefecture, which is known as a castle town famous for ninja and haiku master Basho, the club originated out of Iga-Ueno Kunoichi Football Club, which was founded in 1976. Having participated in the Japan Women's Football League since its first year, the club is now 46 years old. The term "Kunoichi" in the club's name means female ninja. As its major honors, the club has won three league championships, three Empress's Cup titles, and four National Athletic Meet championships. It conducts community-based team operations and is engaged in team strengthening with a view to reclaiming its status as a traditional powerhouse. It conducts initiatives with a view to becoming a pillar of local sport and has joined the WE League as it aims to become a women's football club that is representative of Japan.
